

ANTARCTIC EYE: THE VISUAL JOURNEY

Top 10 Book List

Sunday Tasmanian, 30 December 2007

AWARDS

Tasmania Book Prizes 2009

Winner of University of Tasmania Prize

Best book by a Tasmanian publisher

Eric Hoffer Award (USA) 2011

Winner's list, Honorable Mention for Legacy Nonfiction.

REVIEWS AND COMMENTS

Andrews shows Antarctica as a place of colour, peerless light, staggering beauty and dramatic energy. The result is a luminous account of how Antarctica has given rise to a rich creative outpouring which not only enhances understanding, but moves the soul.

Christopher Bantick

Sunday Tasmanian, 9 December 2007

A staggeringly beautiful history of Antarctic art as seen by artists of the United Kingdom and Australia, Antarctic Eye is an essential book for anyone seriously interested in the continent, or exploration art as a larger topic.

William Fox

Writer, scholar and poet, USA

email to the author, 29 May 2008

This is a delicious book, one to enjoy and savour. Elegant in design and production, meticulous in research and thoughtful – it accomplishes beautifully and thoroughly what it sets out to do.

Ursula Ryan

Antarctic, Volume 26, No 4, 2008

...a beautifully produced, scholarly work...

Mike Bingham

The Mercury, 14 April 2009

When I asked myself if this book changed my world, then the answer is yes. Andrews has delivered an excellent survey of visual material that provides an overview of the way Antarctica has been perceived and visually recorded... This beautifully produced book generously opens the conversation on the art of Antarctica.

Celia Lendis

Island, 118, Spring 2009